

COMMEMORATING THE LIFE OF

Carlos Terrones

20 August 1932 - 31 July 2017

If you wish to share a memory, leave a comment or make a donation to Parkinson's UK, you can do that on this web page:
carlos.terrones.muchloved.com

Tuesday 8th August 2017
South West Middlesex Crematorium
12.20pm

Order of Ceremony

Entrance Music - Leifersleid by Fritz Kreisler

Many of you will remember Carlos playing this, usually in private when we would sneak up on him to listen.

Welcome & Opening Words

This ceremony is for family and friends who loved and admired the very talented and quietly funny man we are here to remember. In his honour, we have avoided a formal service in favour of a heartfelt sharing of memories and love.

Tribute from the Family

Reflection - 'Oh Danny Boy' played on Violin

Carlos used to play this and also sing it because unlike most people, he could. Let's take a moment to enjoy this beautiful piece and remember him.

Tribute from the Young Family

He absolutely adored his grandchildren and they thought their abuelito was pretty cool too.

Farewell

Committal - 'Toque de Diana Floreada'

This may seem upbeat at this final moment but Carlos was never conventional and it produces a wry smile and wonderful memories. He used to play this in the mornings when he wanted us to get up and keep him company. Goodbye Dad, we love you.

Parting words and Goodbye

Leaving Music - 'Ave Maria' by Schubert

This is a very special version of Ave Maria that Carlos loved. He would also sing this but felt he could never quite do it the same justice as the original.

Mi marido Carlitos.....Te quiero siempre